

2021 NEMA LITES Driver Profile:

Drew Eldridge

Drew Eldridge is certainly no rookie behind the wheel of a racecar, but he is certainly a rising start in the NEMA LITES series.

Following in the footsteps of his grandfather, four time & inaugural NEMA Champion Bill Eldridge, Drew has developed into a driver of multiple-disciplines, whether it be on dirt or asphalt. His impressive resume includes 600cc micro sprints, 350 Supermodifieds, Pro4 Modifieds, Dwarf cars, and three-quarter midgets.

“I really enjoyed my time in the supers, I never turn down an opportunity. However, it was only a matter of time before I got into a midget myself. My family has a deep-rooted history within NEMA, and it feels like my new home for years to come. I’m just got engaged and have a baby on the way, so I hope to bring a fourth generation of Eldridge to NEMA in the future.”

Running his first full NEMA LITES season in 2019, he struggled with motor issues that lasted into 2020.

“My goals for 2021 are to stay consistent and fight for top fives every week. Once I’m up front, I can start capitalizing on opportunities and maybe even capture a podium or a win.”

The Chelmsford, MA native is no stranger to victory lane and will certainly be seen in NEMA LITES victory lane soon.
